Objective //

Hello! My name is Dylan Torrville. I am an industrial designer and a recent graduate from the Bachelor's of Industrial Design program at Humber College.

I strive to pursue a career in design inspired by my passion for cycling, running and getting lost in the outdoors. I want to continue to grow as a designer and as a creator, becoming an efficient element in your company. Whether operating a camera or wielding a pen, I am confident in my abilities and strive to learn new things with new experiences.
